I am too. But, question: what about the five scenes? There's no conclusion. You don't even have the full first act. Regardless, everyone is super excited for you to play fast and loose with intellectual property and copyright laws. Please, produce my play. Make millions of dollars.

That I will take right out of your hands because I didn't give you the rights to produce my play or take it or even read it - other than the same right everyone has to enjoy what I create, which you LOVE. You obsess over. Do me a favor, on a printed copy of my stolen play - four scenes of it - please send me the picture of you masturbating onto it. Not your dick. Just the final act.

It's a tribute. To how amazing I am, how amazing the things I create, how pathetic you are, and how much you want to be just. like. a. faggot. but can't and this is the best you can ever do.

The best you will be is a weak mimicry of me. And I excel far beyond what you can copy. Go fuck your wife. Go be good at something. I'm done here. You have no rights over any of my photos, edits, designs, writing, blogs, etc. etc. - I have not given you the rights to anything I created. So if you make a dollar off of it, that's just gonna be mine too.

It's a compliment that you want to copy me - I know how much you admire and adore adn masturbate about me constantly - don't you have something better to do today? Like literally anything other than masturbating about the thought of me? I mean, come on dude, you're kind of pathetic at this point. Maybe we jsut speed this along and you tell me what you want, and you can lead a productive life ?

The room is mostly dark, except for the golden hue of dusk spilling in through the windows, the light of the computer screen, and the living room lamp lit. It's clear that GUS has been living here for some time, though it doesn't appear to be overly messy. The set is divided into four sections:"

What a compliment that is. What a compliment! Hope it's a real big win. After all everything is good pressed so long as they spell your name right and even if they don't it's still good press

> I just made a WordPress page for the play American Gaslighter by Dr. Talos (no, I won't send it to you, thank you very much!). It will be an exploration of Barry Floore's mind in the times of the Autarch! I can't wait! Now, I need to find funding. With my fullbright in hand, you know that I will find funding! Anywho, the funny thing is Baptist Health has a robust arts funding program. I might hit them first. I have connections there and with the Rotary club!

> I know you had an itch to get into the theater, but TOO BAD! You blew it, Barry! I remember having cocktails with Patrick Stewart in his Park Slope house talking off-Broadway a few years ago. But I was just a humble scientist and did not know a thing about the theater. But you, Barry, you are pure inspiration for how the constraints of American capitalism can cause the most mediocre minds to self-destruct in the most fascinating way. It will be a hit! Springfield park, this summer. You should see flyers in Avondale starting this June.
